Message from the Head of the Organizing Committee

Welcome to the EUC Table Tennis

I am very pleased to welcome you to the 5th European Universities Table Tennis Championship.

It is a great honour to organize an event that, year after year, collects more and more participants. We want to make this the best event ever, where every athlete can enjoy their stay while giving his/her maximum during the games.

This guide will help you during your stay in Funchal. Here you can find all the information you shall need at any moment: contacts from the Organizing Committee, information of the accommodation venue, of the sports hall, of the food and beverage, of the transports, etc. .

In case of doubt, do not hesitate and get in touch with us. You now have all our contacts. Our duty is to ensure that your stay on the Island is perfect, and we will be delighted to help you.

I wish you all a good Championship, a great time and that you may save the best memories from Madeira Island.

João
Baptista

The University of Madeira has approximately 2700 students in the 1st cycle, 612 students in the 2nd cycle and circa 50 students in the 3rd cycle. UMa offers a wide range of 21 degrees in diverse areas such as engineering, science and technologies, health, economics, management, arts, humanities and education. UMa has also 17 MA degrees and 12 PhD degrees.

Located in Funchal, Madeira's University is constituted by the Rectory's building (at Jesuits College), by the University Campus (at Caminho da Penteada), by the Halls of Residence and the Student Affairs Office (both at Rua de Santa Maria) and finally by the São Roque Campus (at Rua Dr. João Abel de Freitas).

The academic calendar is divided into two semesters. Classes begin in the end of September and are interrupted by Christmas, Carnival and Easter holidays as well as exam seasons.

Besides classes, exams and holidays, the academic year also includes: the Freshmen Reception, the solemn opening of the academic year, Madeira's monumental academic serenade, Caruncho Week and the University's anniversary.

University of Madeira's Students Union

The Students Union, founded in 1991, is the students' representative structure. It is a private institution with no lucrative goals established on its own statutes and further legislation.

In 2011, AAUMA completes 20 years of existence by the hand of several different social bodies.

AAUMA tries to inform and educate the student bearing in mind several fields of knowledge, and believes students should have an active participation in his/her Academy's routes.

A television show, a radio show, an academic journal, workshops and seminars, along with a group of fado and serenades are the biggest projects from this Institution, and it involves the participation of a large number of students from the University.

The peak of the University Sports consists in participating in the National University Sports' Championship. AAUMA has regular participations in this competition, in various sports. Actually, AAUMA is a national reference in terms of University Sports having achieved several titles in different sports.

Due to this fact, AAUMA's, UMa's, as well as Portugal's names have been carried into the European University Sports Championship in the previous academic years.
